

K1.03 KIOSK > Contributing Partners

Draft 28 August 2012

KIOSK is a free service for built-environment design professionals, with the simple goal of sharing information about all aspects of the business and practice of design. You can become a KIOSK Contributing Partner in three easy steps:

- Tell us that you are interested in taking part,
- Send us something you think would be of interest to KIOSK readers, and
- Provide a link to iProjects KIOSK on your website.

Advantages?

- Increase your organization's exposure.
- Help lift the whole design profession through your contributions.
- We will profile your organization in the iProjects Letter, a monthly electronic journal with an international circulation, more or less in the order that organizations join, if you want that.

Cost? None. No joining fee, no membership fee, nothing. Just your thinking and writing time.

Limitations: We reserve the right to not publish anything we think is inappropriate – but we'll tell you if that's the case, and why.

Interested? Email me: cnelson@iprojects.net.au.